DRUGS OF ABUSE CONFERENCE

Solutions Through Partnership

The Problem

In South Carolina, like so many other states, the drug abuse landscape is very complex and often times confusing. Drug use patterns and trends are constantly changing within our state...on almost a daily basis. Developing strategies to combat the numerous issues created by the abuse of illicit and pharmaceutical drugs is a challenging proposition for most public service agencies and professionals. The South Carolina Drugs of Abuse Conference is an event by which South Carolina professionals and community leaders can stay up to date on the drugs of abuse affecting their communities.

Who Should Attend?

- Persons practicing in the following professions:
- Law Enforcement and Probation/Parole
 - Social Services and Child Advocates
 - Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment
 - Health and Environmental
 - Law and Judicial
 - Education
 - Mental Health
 - Medical
 - EMS and Fire
 - Community Leaders and Elected Officials
 - Victim/Witness Advocates
 - Community Coalitions and Public Health Advocates

Conference Objectives

- Foster awareness among and between South Carolina professionals and communities regarding the extensive impact of drugs of abuse in our communities.
- Develop professional and community-based networks that can aid in the construction of effective holistic strategies to combat the effect of drugs of abuse on our families and neighborhoods.
- Provide relevant, up to date, instruction from nationally recognized speakers and experts to aid in the formation of a comprehensive response to the problems created by the drugs of abuse.
- Explore the nature of drug use and how it interrelates with other crime in South Carolina.
- Examine factors related to the prevention of drug use as well as the treatment of drug abuse in South Carolina.

The Solution

The South Carolina Drugs of Abuse Conference (SCDAC) is the most comprehensive examination of drug use in South Carolina. The SCDAC is designed to integrate instruction from nationally recognized speakers with the experience of South Carolina professionals. During 2004 and 2005, the South Carolina Community Methamphetamine Conference and South Carolina Community Methamphetamine Summit, thoroughly examined the impact of, and solutions to, the growing methamphetamine problem in South Carolina. The SCDAC takes a look at drugs of abuse and how they often times are interrelated to other problems in a given town, city, or region. Often times, the problems created by drugs of abuse are more than one agency or organization can handle so the SCDAC promotes "Solutions through Partnership."
